

Privacy Policy

The Eau Claire Community Foundation's Board of Trustees has adopted this Policy to assist the Foundation's director, officers, employees, agents, and fiduciaries (which include supporting organizations, affiliate funds, and volunteers) in fulfilling their obligations and commitments.

The Eau Claire Community Foundation (ECCF) is aware of the privacy issues and concerns facing online participants. We make our privacy policy available so visitors to our site may feel free to provide personal information, knowing this information is not intended for misuse.

What personal information is collected?

ECCF has the capability of collecting various bits of information from you without your active participation. Such information might include: IP address, browser type/version, and computer platform. Your browser automatically submits this information in order to correctly fulfill page requests. No other information will be obtained from you without your consent.

Why we collect your personal information

In addition to the required information described above, we may ask you to voluntarily submit some personal information (such as email address, name, method of payment, and demographic information). ECCF may do this for a variety of reasons, though in most cases this information will be used to directly contact you at your request. Information regarding method of payment is collected for membership or registration for events.

Disclosure of personal information

ECCF will maintain all information submitted for its original intent. We will not share your personal information with another third-party without your expressed consent. All voluntarily submitted information may be maintained in our database. In all other cases, personal information is not kept in any form of a record (except for legally required information such as IP address, browser and operating system platform). At times we may be required by law or legal process to disclose your personal information. We may also disclose information about you if we believe that disclosure is necessary for the public interest. ECCF reserves the right to determine what cases warrant public interests.

How we protect your personal information

ECCF safeguards the security of the data you send us with physical, electronic, and managerial procedures. We urge you to take every precaution to protect your personal data when you are on the Internet: change your passwords often, use a combination of letters and numbers and make sure you use a secure browser.

Access to your personal information

You have access to the personal information you voluntarily submitted. All requests for such information are contingent on the willingness and ability to provide automatically collected information to us. We also may require all requests to be made in writing and only after we receive proof of your identification.

Collecting other personal information

Like many websites, the ECCF reserves the right to use "cookie" technology. The cookies we use do not reveal any personal information about you. Cookies help us understand which parts of our websites are the most popular, where our visitors are going and how long they spend there. We use cookies to study traffic patterns on our site so we can make adjustments and improvements.

This site has security measures in place to protect the loss, misuse and alteration of the information under the ECCF's control.

Revisions:

The addition of supporting organizations and affiliate sin this was approved on December 6, 2019.
